Teacher Is Hurt As Car Hits Pier On Superhighway

Lydia Bosanko, 36, of 7111 West 190th Street New York City, an instructor at the Presbyterian Medical Center in that city, was critically injured about 4 p. m. Friday when her car went out of control and crashed into a bridge pier on the Thruway at mile post 45 in the Town of Ulster, about four miles north of Kingston.

Trooper J. B. Fox of the Thruway detail said Miss Bosanko was driving north en route to visit relatives at Glens Falls when her 1961 compact car went out of control, crossed the superhighway mall and struck the bridge pier.

Condition Is Critical
She was taken by Doctors Ambulance to Kingston Hospital where she was treated for head injuries, possible arm fractures and a broken pelvis. She was in critical condition.

In other mishaps, Eric Bouton, 6, of 11 Florence Street, was hospitalized when he was struck by a car about 4:30 p. m. Friday on Clifton Avenue.

He was taken to Kingston Hospital where he was treated for head injuries. He was reported in fair condition today.

Patrolmen Albert Johnson and Leon Fitzgerald said Donald H. Burgher, 45, of 295 Clifton Avenue, was driving north on Clifton Avenue when the child ran from the curb into the path of Burgher's car.

A Marlboro man was injured about 11:15 p. m. Friday when his car collided with a stalled vehicle on Route 9W in the Town of Lloyd.

Marlboro Man Hurt
Trooper Edward Pulver, Highland station, said John E. Brown, 29, of 33 Murray Street, was driving along the highway when his vehicle stalled. As he was trying to push the disabled car off the pavement, it was struck by a sedan operated by Noel Clark, 19, of Western Avenue, Marlboro. Brown escaped injury but Clark suffered lip cuts.

VFW Will Honor Baseball Promoter As 1963 Citizen of Year on May 2

By ALBERT J. CAWEIN
Freeman Staff Writer

A man who supports his faith in semi-pro baseball on the local scene with all his energy and resources.

A man who has given 35 years of his life to the promotion of sporting events.

A man who still has time to devote towards the betterment of youth in his community.

This is the man chosen by Joyce Schirich Post 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars as 1963 Citizen of the Year.

He is Fred J. Davi of Glasco.

Joins 12 Others

He joins the ranks of 12 other distinguished citizens of Ulster County who have been similarly honored by the veteran's organization.

Davi was recognized for his contribution to sports in 1962 with a Page One Award presented by Kingston Newspaper Guild.

The VFW Citizen of the Year Award will be presented at a testimonial dinner tentatively scheduled for May 2 at VFW Hall, Delaware Avenue.

FRED J. DAVI

He is known as one of the original pioneers of Hudson Valley baseball and a man dedicated to the national pastime. Previous VFW award winners include Louis H. Schafer, Addison Jones, Richard M. Kalish, Edward "Yank" Albrecht, Miss Katherine M. Murphy, the only woman so honored; Joseph J. Kelly, city editor of The Freeman; James M. Krom, Herman Knaust, Howard C. Shurter, Robert "Bob" Browning, E. Frank Flanagan and Harry L. Edson, the latter four are deceased.

Manages Local Braves

A man with unique promotional abilities, he currently owns and manages the Kingston Braves.

He probably knows more about the game than anyone in the area. Davis started his promotional ventures back in 1925, when he ran the Glasco-Downhill Stars, while still a student at St. Mary's of the Snow School in Saugerties.

He doesn't remember playing baseball beyond the sandlot stage, but recalls one time he made the lineup.

The game I played was when my team in the City League needed a ninth man, and in order not to forfeit, I played second (Continued on Page 12, Col. 3)

Salinger Moving For Senate Seat, Court Test Looms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former White House press secretary Pierre Salinger plunged ahead today in his bid for a California Senate seat, despite the possibility of a court test of his eligibility.

Salinger, a native San Franciscan who has lived in Virginia for the past six years, formally entered the race hours before Friday's filing deadline. A day earlier, he had resigned his White House position.

Salinger's three opponents in the June 2 primary include ailing incumbent Clair Engle, State Controller Alan Cranston and Los Angeles pension promoter George McLean.

Depends on Support
Salinger said he had the support of several prominent Democrats but didn't name them. Most of the state's top Democrats, including Gov. Edmund G. Brown, are already committed to either Engle or Cranston.

Secretary of State Frank Jordan, a Republican, said a court test of Salinger's eligibility appeared inevitable.

Across the nation, Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton won final legislative approval of his controversial plan to rebuild the state's unemployment compensation fund after the wildest House session in years.

By a roll call vote of 106-14 with practically all of the 98 Democrats not voting, the House sent the measure to Scranton just 38 days after he proposed it.

State His Concern
Although Pennsylvania observers called the swift legislative action a political and leadership victory for Scranton, the governor himself said in a statement:

"This bill doesn't do anything to my image nationally, nor am I interested. It means creation of more jobs here, which is my primary interest."

Other Developments
In other political developments:

Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., hospitalized in San Antonio, Tex., with a head injury said he does not plan to pull out of his race for the Democratic Senate nomination in Ohio.

Sen. Barry Goldwater's campaign director in the recent New Hampshire primary said the Arizona Republican contributed to his own defeat. Stewart Lamprey said during a

Sugar Crop Is Bad But Castro Spends

EDITOR'S NOTE — Cuba's financial deals are puzzling to outsiders: The sugar crop is bad and yet Cuba has money to buy British buses. Here's an explanation by a veteran observer of the Latin American scene.

By BEN F. MEYER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Big economic troubles still plague Fidel Castro in Cuba, but he will have more money to spend abroad for urgently needed goods than he has had in several years.

As if this were not enough of a paradox, the reason he has more money is that under the Communist system the production of sugar — Cuba's biggest dollar earner — has been going from bad to worse. The Cuban crop has been so bad it has helped put sugar prices up so high that Castro's dictatorship now gets more money for a poor crop than it did for a good one.

Byes British Buses
That's where the money came from which Castro is using to buy buses in England, machinery and supplies in France and Japan, and is dangling before other friends of Uncle Sam to tempt them to do more business with Cuba.

Washington clings to its theory that its economic boycott is making things tougher and tougher for the bearded prime minister.

In 1963, the short crop in Cuba

Reported Flowing Back
However, the Treasury official said many of the silver dollars bought early in the week are flowing back into the Treasury's vaults. This indicates that coin collectors probably are partly responsible for the depletion.

The official said that if exhaustion seems imminent, Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon will suspend the regulation which requires the Treasury to redeem silver certificates in silver metal or coin.

Carry 1,000 Each
Many of those who queued up in front of the Treasury's cash window Friday carried out the coins in bags of 1,000 each.

Two men put at least 20 bags in a station wagon. A bag of (Continued on Page 5, Col. 3)

Two Cuban Defectors Grilled

Questioning May Keep Up for Days

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — The bloody hijacking of a Cuban military helicopter by two youths defecting to the United States was under tight federal investigation today.

The body of the pilot, with six bullet holes, lay in a morgue in Key West where the Russian-made helicopter landed Friday from Havana.

Taken Separately

The two anti-Castroites who engineered the bizarre death battle over the Atlantic were taken to Miami for questioning by immigration authorities.

Transported separately to Miami for U.S. grilling was a mechanic aboard the helicopter who said he wanted to return to Cuba.

Authorities indicated the questioning might take days.

When the drab green helicopter landed at Key West International Airport the mechanic, Sergio Roque, 17, started running. He was caught 1,200 feet from the craft.

The hijackers — Guillermo Santos and Andres Izaguirre — told police they commandeered the copter shortly after it left Havana under a plan they had plotted carefully in advance.

They told the pilot, Jose Marcia, to fly to the United States. When he refused, the shooting broke out.

Indication of Struggle
A sheriff's deputy reported that while all shots appeared to have been fired from Santos gun there was indication of a struggle between the pilot and his self-imposed copilot.

Santos, a regular Army pilot, said he took the controls for the flight to Key West.

There was no word on whether Navy jets scrambled to meet the copter as it flew into Key West.

The manager of the Key West airport, George Faraldo, said he ran to meet the helicopter. As he sprinted across the field, the two men inside drew their pistols, he said.

"I disarmed them," Faraldo said. "I was unarmed myself."

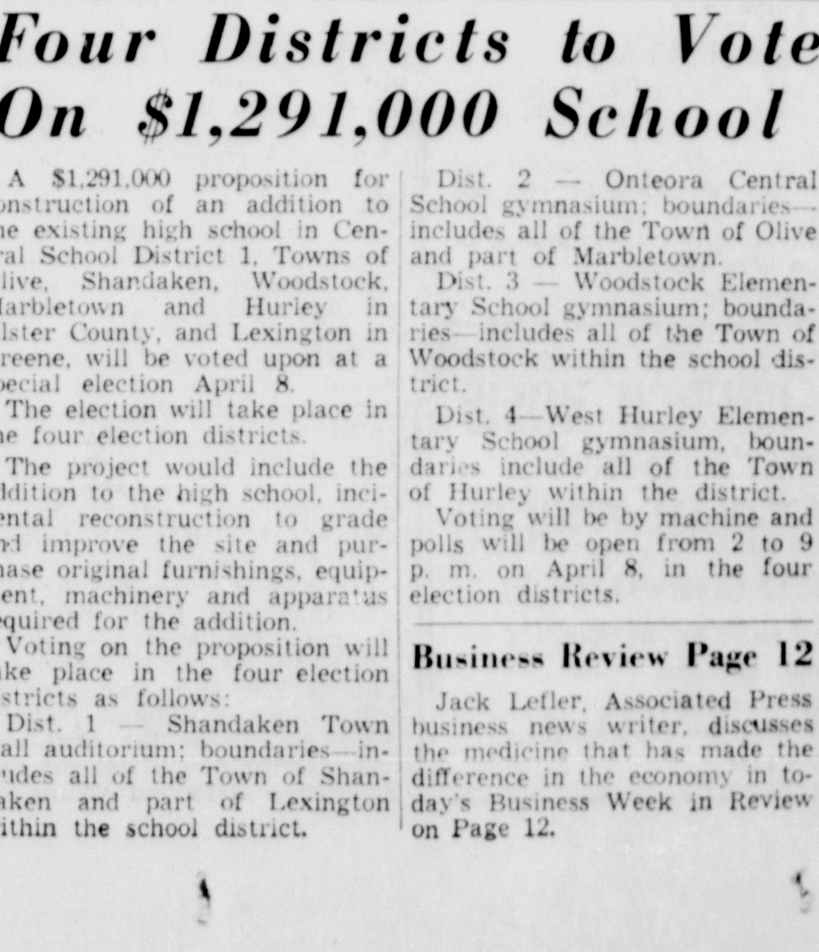

A loaded 50-caliber machine-gun was mounted on the nose of the helicopter, Faraldo reported.

Elections Board Names New Clerk Pending Opinion

Objection by the executive committee of the Democratic party in Ulster County to part time services of Francis Martocci as a clerk in the office of the Ulster County Board of Elections, resulted yesterday in the appointment of a new clerk, Mrs. Ethel Reilly of Esopus, to replace Martocci, Kingston attorney.

The board of elections is entitled to the services of two clerks, one appointed by each of the two major parties. Miss Valerie L. Quick is the Republican appointee and Mr. Martocci was the Democratic appointee.

At a meeting of the election commissioners Friday, Commissioner Joseph Epstein, Democratic member, presented a resolution calling for the replacement of Martocci who had been named (Continued on Page 5, Col. 3)

The Lenten Story

BY WOODI ISHMAEL

THE SON OF GOD

While Jesus hung in agony from His cross, passersby on the Hill of Calvary jeered and hooted.

"If Thou art the Son of God, come down from the cross," they cried, shaking their fists.

Similarly, the chief priests and elders mocked Him, saying, "He saved others, but He cannot save Himself."

At the ninth hour, Jesus cried out with a loud voice and gave up His spirit. Matthew tells us about that terrible time:

"And behold, the curtain of the temple was torn in two from top to bottom; and the earth quaked, and the rocks were rent, and the tombs were opened, and many bodies of the saints who had fallen asleep arose..."

"Now when the centurion, and those who were with him keeping guard over Jesus saw the earthquake and the things that were happening, they were very much afraid, and they said, 'Truly, this man was the Son of God.'" Matthew XXVII:51-54

Psychiatrists, Some Clergy Blamed for British Morals

LONDON (AP) — Dr. John Heenan, archbishop of Westminster and leader of Britain's four million Roman Catholics, blames psychiatrists and some of the clergy for looser sexual morals in Britain.

Yet he thinks England is, on balance, a much more moral place than it was in the days of Charles Dickens (1812-1870).

"People will confuse immorality as mainly concerned with sex, fornication, adultery and so on," said the archbishop in an interview. "But oppression of poor is what really cries out to heaven for vengeance. Then, too, there is the complete contempt most comfortably off people—and I don't just mean the rich—have for the down-and-out. That's immoral, if you like."

Dr. Heenan said of present-day youth in Britain: "There has been a growth of violence. Perhaps the cult of youth is largely to be blamed. And that was started by the published between 30 and 40 gospel song books. For several years he was organist or director of music for three of the leading New York City broadcasts. At present he is associated with The Radioheaven Co., of Winona Lake, Ind., as editor, writer, compiler and arranger.

government as a kind of answer to the Hitler youth during the war. It was in the spirit of the times."

The real trouble with youth, Dr. Heenan thinks, is that it is made too much fuss of. People who get fussed over get spoiled, he says.

Dr. Heenan, who had long experience in London's East End slums as a parish priest before becoming a bishop says: "I think it's true that there are more criminals today. But then there are more good people too—because there are more people. In the 16th century the population of the whole of England was nothing like the present population of London alone. With the number of people still increasing by natural growth and immigration, it would be extraordinary indeed if we didn't have more prisoners."

The archbishop does not think any dramatic action such as the use of worker-priests will help the church regain its lost contact with those who don't go to church.

Final Lenten Service to Be Cantata by Combined Choirs

The combined choirs of the Fair Street Reformed Church of Kingston and the Reformed Church of Saugerties will present Joseph W. Clokey's Adoramus Te Sunday 7:30 p. m. at the Fair Street Reformed Church, 209 Fair Street. The service is presented under the auspices of the Kingston Area Council of Churches, and is the last in the series of six community Lenten services.

Adoramus Te (Thee We Adore) follows the ancient liturgy of the Easter vigil, and is particularly appropriate to the Lenten and Easter season. The two choirs will follow the experience of Our Lord during the week preceding his crucifixion and resurrection as it is symbolized in the works of nature and in the most ancient hymns and canticles of the church.

The cathedral choir sings in English as they symbolize the reaction of the forces of nature to the passion of Jesus. The cathedral choir sings in Latin the ancient hymns of the church Benedictus, Sanctus, Kyrie, Credo, Crucifixion, Agnus Dei, Gloria in Excelsis, and finally the Adoramus Te — symbolizing the reactions of the church to the passing of its Lord.

The choir of the Fair Street Reformed Church is under the direction of Percy W. Gazlay II who will direct the combined choirs in this work. The Saugerties Reformed Church choir is under the direction of Howard Houghtaling, who will be organist.

Soloists are Mrs. Bernard N. Pauker, soprano; Mrs. Elmer Nathan, contralto; Richard Baker, tenor; and John Rich, bass. David Roberts plays the cathedral chimes.

The entire community may attend this significant religious and musical event.

BAD MEDICAL DEVICES

Valid arguments can still be made for allowing the "let the buyer beware" philosophy operate with regard to some goods and services. The government should not be expected to protect the consumer against every conceivable danger of being cheated. This does not alter the fact that some federal policing and establishment of standards is desirable. Recent disclosures suggest that prosthetic devices used by surgeons — bone pins, artificial eyes and so on — should be brought under such control. This is especially so because inferior devices of this kind are sometimes foisted off on the aged. The point was emphasized when George P. Larrick, head of the Food and Drug Administration, showed a Senate subcommittee a number of such items which had had to be removed from elderly patients because they rusted or caused infections. Surgeons may not always be able to tell whether a prosthetic device is made of proper materials. Standards set and policed by the government would change that. This would seem to be a wise addition to the FDA's responsibilities.

REMOVE HOME HAZARDS

It has been established that the home is the site of more injuries each year than the nation's highways. It is reported that over 24,000 Americans are killed in their homes each year and some four million injured. Most home deaths and injuries are the result of falls, not from high places but due to things laying around the house and from improper lighting, loose rails and boards. Most of the victims of falls are older people. A good housekeeper can keep down the number of home accidents. A free orderly house, as free as possible of things to trip over, is the safest home for people of all ages. Housewives should exercise common sense when spring cleaning in the home by removing all hazards.

THEY'RE STILL WOMEN

The chief of police of Lawton, Okla., is a plain-spoken fellow who is not sentimental about the opposite sex or impressed by distaff efficiency in removing coins from parking meters. Chief Pete Fullens didn't say, in a letter to the police chief of Lansing, Mich., that his "meter maids" were unsatisfactory because of any lack of ability. He merely said they had the common failings of women.

GIVE CHEERFULLY

There cannot be an American able to read who does not know how deeply the Red Cross is threaded into the fabric of our life as a humanitarian service organization. Its record of service in a thousand ways over the long years needs no recalling. In disaster and distress, the Red Cross is always there. Indeed, it is expected to be as one counts upon the truest, surest friend. Some 2,800 chapters are campaigning during this month for all or part of their needed funds. The Red Cross claims that it touches the lives of more Americans—practically every family—than any other non-governmental agency. It has the facts to prove it. During the past year:

One of every four Americans was a mem-

Nobody is Ahead for Vice President

The attempt on the part of Robert F. Kennedy partisans to push him for Vice President at this stage of the game ignores one of the oldest rules of Presidential-year politics. This is the rule that no candidate should be for second place on a ticket until it is known just what particular party fences are most in need of mending.

At the present moment Lyndon Johnson has most of his important domestic fences in order. So he must keep things fluid, waiting upon the processes of wind and weather to see where he is apt to be weakest come next autumn. Given a continuing run of prosperity and a fair bit of luck in foreign affairs, he may have nothing to mend—in which case he would stand to corral the most votes by picking a running mate on sheer personal merit, without regard to such considerations as geography, religion, TV-presence, or position on the left-right economic spectrum. The best way to put it is to say that the President must keep before him a number of bins or drawers labelled "Kennedy," "Humphrey," "Shriver," "Stevenson," "Dodd" and "Eugene McCarthy." Into the bins must go separate slips for each individual's various characteristics. It will be noted that four of the bins would contain a slip labelled "Catholic," so Johnson is bound to be well-versed when it comes to mending the religious fence if it should fall into disrepair among Irish, Polish or Italian ethnic groups in our northern cities.

The choice of Bobby Kennedy for Vice President will turn almost certainly on the identity of the man the Republicans choose to run for President. Since Bobby Kennedy is not liked in the South, it might be a region-losing proposition to put him on the ticket if the Republicans should pick Goldwater or Nixon, who have their many southern adherents. If, on the other hand, Rockefeller is the Republican selection, Johnson could risk the choice of Bobby, particularly because Bobby could counter Rocky's appeal to the liberal northeast. The South would say, "Better an antipathetic Vice President than a super-civil-righter President."

Senator Hubert Humphrey, the Minnesota liberal, is currently accorded the best chance of being Johnson's nomination for Vice President. But in the forthcoming fight in the Senate over the civil rights bill Hubert, as the man the White House counts upon to jockey the contested clauses past the filibusters, is apt to step on innumerable southern toes. Conceivably he could be the person who must take the honor and the onus for a strong bill, in which case Johnson would have to reflect on whether Humphrey's appeal to liberals would get more votes for the ticket in crucial northern states than would be lost in Texas or South Carolina.

Another reason for possibly discounting Humphrey is that he is not beloved by business. Johnson is making a special pitch for business support. If business is to be placated, Humphrey is out. And Bobby Kennedy, as head of the trust-busting organ of government, has three months to demonstrate that he holds no continuing ill-will toward corporations such as U. S. Steel, which once incurred the displeasure of both Kennedy brothers.

Looking into the various hypothetical Johnson bins, I can see the choice for Number Two position developing upon the pleasant-spoken Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota. This man, even more than Shriver, has characteristics which would combine to make him the figure of the hour at the Atlantic City convention. He is a Catholic, which would mean that the Kennedy vote would not be easily lured away by the Republicans for other considerations. He is a scholar, with a background of public school and university teaching and book authorship, all of which gives him qualifications which would appeal to the Stevensons in the party. He has had a wartime experience in military intelligence, which would certainly prove useful in the Cold War epoch. But, more important, he has been friendly to labor without alienating the business community.

All speculation about Vice Presidential possibilities is, however, just guess work as of now. The stars won't be emptied from the bins until next August. (Copyright, 1964, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Teach Her to Stop Smoking

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:
Is there anything that we can do to help our girl, 15, stop smoking? When the government's report came out, I gave up my three after-meal cigarettes a day in hope that my example would encourage her to quit. For a day or two I think she really tried to cut down. But she is now back to two packs a day. Her father and I can say nothing because she gets so irritable if we mention the subject of quitting.

ANSWER: Yes, there is something you can do.

You can ask your child's high school principal to write to the National Health Foundation, 227 West 46 Street, New York 36, N. Y. He should request its aid in reducing cigarette addiction among all his students.

The foundation has only to receive his request, it tells me, to arrange to dispatch to his school one of its physician-psychologist teams who will offer its youngsters the foundation's highly successful five-day course of lessons in cigarette withdrawal.

If her high school makes these lessons available to your daughter and her fellow students, I am pretty sure she'll use them. For she has herself told us she wants to quit cigarettes by her attempt to cut down on them. That the effort failed is not important. What is important is the desire it expressed.

To make that efforts successful now, I expect she needs only to receive the experienced support of one of the foundation's anti-smoking teams during the first difficult five days of abstinence—and to feel herself accompanied by a group of other young people who are sharing its tensions with her in order to kick their common habit.

The National Health Foundation's teams which are currently circulating throughout the country's high schools understand the special problem involved in cigarette withdrawal for the adolescent youngster. He is living through a period of intensified anxieties about himself as a social and sexual person. As a cigarette smoker, he has sustained those anxieties by narcotizing them with nicotine. When he withdraws from the drug, they are released.

It is easier for him to tolerate them through to the point of discovering he can live with them if other people have joined him in his resistance to his craving. In the mutual encouragement they give each other he finds comfort for besetting anxiety over his social and sexual value. (All rights reserved, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

WASHINGTON NEWS

WASHINGTON — (NEA) —

A new Army study sheds light on the current controversy over the value of flu shots. It explains why some people swear by the shots and why others doubt their value.

For the past three years the Army has given influenza vaccine to every man in service more than 30 days.

In addition, the Army Medical Corps has experimentally run major tests with "vaccinates" and control groups of unvaccinated men regularly for more than 20 years.

The Army doctors have found that vaccinated men have had from 11 to 92 per cent fewer cases of flu, depending on the type of vaccine and the strain of flu virus prevalent.

In three test years out of four, there were 60 to 92 per cent fewer flu cases among the vaccinated men.

THE ARMY, WHICH LOST 50,000 MEN in battle in 1917 and 1918, and 47,000 men to influenza these same years, considers its flu program a success.

But why does protection vary from 11 to 92 per cent? In 1943, the Army vaccine gave 72 per cent protection. By 1945 that protection was up to 92 per cent. In 1947, protection dropped to 11 per cent when a new type of virus appeared which varied significantly from the strains in the Army vaccine.

Adding a strain of that new virus to the vaccine brought protection back up to 68 per cent by 1950 and to 83 per cent by 1953.

PROTECTION DIPPED MARKEDLY a few years later with the spread of the Asian flu virus. An Army crash program developed a still newer vaccine in the spring of 1957 that incorporated the Asian influenza virus with the older types.

This brought 47 to 77 per cent protection, depending on the potency of the vaccine used.

Though flu nationwide hit its highest levels since the 1917-18 epidemic, by early 1958 the Army had brought its influenza rates down to those of normal, non-epidemic years. . . considerably lower than in the civilian population.

In 1958, the new vaccines were giving 83 per cent protection.

THE ARMY SAYS ITS SECRET is the speed with which these new strains are added to its old vaccines.

Army men report they regularly include more types of flu viruses in their vaccines than are available in vaccines used by most civilian doctors.

What the Army men expect is that their constantly improved vaccines will hold the line. The vaccines tend to prevent epidemics from getting out of hand. They never wipe out flu.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By SOPHIE MILLER

From one of my readers in Saugerties, I received an article from the New York Times of Saturday, March 14, 1964, titled "Syracuse Becomes Focus of State Effort to Retain Its Landmarks" by Ada Louise Huxtable. My reader wrote over this item: "Very definitely, up your alley, dear Mrs. Miller. You have tried so hard, so long, so valiantly to arouse a sense of history in the Ulster County area and particularly in the City of Kingston. We should all be very grateful to you." I appreciate her kind words, but the powers that be heed me not.

My reader underlined words and phrases which interested her. This article also included such handsome structures as the Syracuse Savings Bank, built in 1876, which the New York State Council, state arts group, has selected for preservation. The Lucius Gleason house, now the Liverpool Civil Center in Liverpool, near Syracuse is pictured, also the Richard de Zeng house in Skaneateles, a suburb of Syracuse, which was constructed in 1839. I think we have several residences in Kingston which remind me of the ones pictured here.

Perhaps, we in Kingston, should contact the New York State Council on the Arts as they have just released a special study. Seymour H. Knox, chairman of the council, and John H. MacFadyen, executive director, said that the report, "Architecture Worth Saving in Onondaga County," a survey of landmark structures in the area, was intended to alert those involved with upstate redevelopment to the need for historic preservation. They mention a 206 page illustrated survey list of 64 outstanding buildings in an area of some 800 square miles, of architectural merit, uniqueness of style representation of period and historical value. It further states, that they are trying to save the Georgian, Federal and Greek Revival to Victorian and early 20th century styles of craftsmanship, and the survey places special emphasis on commercial buildings in downtown areas, which are undergoing the greatest disruption through urban renewal and private redevelopment. These older structures, frequently technologically obsolete but of outstanding architectural quality, are usually the first to succumb to the bulldozer. Suggestions are made in the text for re-use of landmarks as state-police substations, county office buildings, recreation centers, museums, libraries and historical society headquarters. It seems announcements of these reports went to city and county officials where renewal programs were planned, and the response exceeded their expectations. I wonder if Kingston and Ulster County received one. I would like to see it.

I wonder how many readers have seen the Reader's Digest of March 1964, on page 51 is a very interesting and exciting article called "The Mounting Scandal of Urban Renewal" by John Dowdy, U. S. representative of Texas. Another article which as yet I have not seen is in the Sept. 1963 Reader's Digest called "Bulldozers at Your Door." Articles of that sort should be read out loud, slowly, to several people and believe me, they are conversation pieces. For instance it mentions, "poor but independent homeowners who are forced into public housing. A Washington judge, E. Barrett Prettyman spoke eloquently of the people in a well kept area doomed because it failed to meet modern standards. What if its owners and occupants like it that way? Suppose they are old fashioned and prefer single family dwellings, small flower gardens, to raise their families etc.

Rehabilitation Hospital

Woodland, N. Y. March 16, 1964

Editor, The Freeman:

After a bad car accident and several months at the Albany Medical Center, I spent six weeks at the New York State Rehabilitation Hospital at West Haverstraw, receiving intensive therapy to help me recover the use of a paralyzed right hand and arm.

Until a neighbor told me about West Haverstraw and my doctor got in touch with Dr. Seymour S. Bluestone, the director, I had no idea that such a wonderful service existed.

Upon my return, many people asked me about this Rehabilitation Hospital. They knew as little about it as I had known. I want to tell them that it is a haven for handicapped people of all ages in need of physical and morale building therapy — and at a fraction of the usual cost.

The atmosphere at the hospital is warmhearted and as pleasant as any place could be that shelters so many unfortunate ones. Some of them desperately so. There prevails an optimistic spirit, engendered by cheerful personnel, friendly nurses and expert therapists, all topped by most renowned doctors and specialists. Each individual case is given thorough analysis and all necessary tests before treatments are undertaken to achieve the best possible use of your abilities. There is loving care for babies and small children, school education for youngsters in all grades, a library for students and bookworms and music, classical or jazz, on up to date records for the ardent listeners. Twice weekly, new films are shown in a modern, spacious auditorium where also very often nice performances and parties with refreshments are given by generous and interested sponsors.

At Christmas time all wards and public rooms are festively adorned and young people from the outside come and sing carols and bring cheer. Volunteer ladies give their time to wheel carts, laden with most attractive merchandise through the wards so that patients can, at half the usual prices, select their Christmas gifts for the absent beloved ones.

Another eye-warming morale builder, provides the patients with the services of a beauty parlor, by supervised students of the trade — for free! You never saw a hospital with a better groomed bunch of women, well manicured and coiffed with the latest hairstyles.

My stay at the West Haverstraw Rehabilitation Hospital was an unforgettable and most rewarding experience. I write this in grateful acknowledgment and hope that some readers, in like need of help, have the privilege of sharing this bonanza. I also hope that the taxpayers may feel that some of their hard-earned money is indeed well spent on seed for new hope and reassurance that life can still be beautiful and that compassion is not dead.

Benefits — When a veteran without adequate reason fails to report for physical examination, including periods of hospital observation, requested for pension or compensation or compensation purposes, the awards to the veteran and any dependents will be discontinued.

Insurance — Veterans are again urged to conduct a periodic review of the beneficiary listing on their GI insurance policies. Cases are continually coming to light where persons other than the deceased veteran's immediate family do not share in the proceeds of his GI insurance simply because the veteran failed to update his beneficiary listing as his family status changed.

Contrary to the common belief of many, a change of beneficiary cannot be made in a last will and testament. Marriages, divorces, births and deaths may indicate needed changes in beneficiary listings. Changes of beneficiary may be made by a veteran only by making such changes in writing, over his signature and forwarded to the appropriate government office serving the policy.

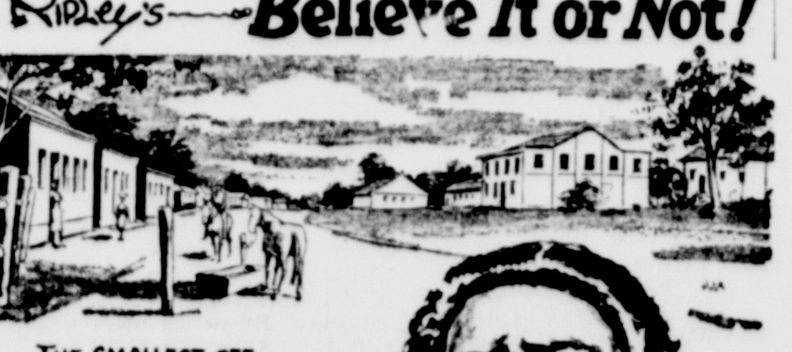

Tax Exemption — Tax exemption applications on real property must be filed with the Town and City Assessors before June 16, which is the deadline. Call this office for information relative to this benefit today.

Irish Playwright, Brendan Behan, Dies on Friday

DUBLIN (AP) — They mourned for him in Dublin's pubs, in the theaters and in the world of letters. They wondered if they'd ever see the likes of their beloved Borsal Boy again.

Gone from their midst was Brendan Behan, the rollicking Irish playwright whose promising career was cut tragically short by monumental bouts with the bottle.

Jaundice Main Cause

Behan died in Meath Hospital Friday night at the age of 41. He had been in a coma for five days, regaining consciousness only briefly. His doctors said he never had a chance.

"Behan died from jaundice and diabetes, but the jaundice was of small consequence," said a doctor. "The jaundice came from liver trouble."

The liver trouble came from a lifetime of drinking. He was arrested for drunkenness in Ireland, Britain, Canada and the United States. In the last few years, he was repeatedly hospitalized.

His capacity for drink was legendary. A bartender in New York's Chelsea district recalled Friday night he could consume 11 bottles of white wine at a sitting. There was even a story making the rounds in Dublin today that a visitor smuggled a bottle of brandy into his hospital room.

Praised by O'Casey

The Dublin Drama Festival observed a minute of silence after the audience was told of his death. At his home in Torquay, England, another famous Irish playwright, Sean O'Casey, described Behan as amiable and kind without any bitterness or venom in his soul.

A stout little man with a shock of undisciplined hair, Behan smiled easily and revealed the absence of his front teeth. His talk, like his books and plays, flowed with the lilting cadence of Dublin's streets.

Born in Slums

Born in the slums of north Dublin, Behan was the son of a house painter and patriot and received an early introduction into the anti-British activities of the Irish Republican Army. By the age of 16, Behan was jailed for the British for a bombing in Liverpool. His reminiscences of his three years in a British Borstal institution for young offenders were vividly set down in his 1958 autobiography, "Borstal Boy."

On his return to Ireland, the shooting of a policeman got him a 14-year jail sentence but an amnesty cut the term to 4½ years. His experiences inspired his first play, "The Quare Fellow," the story of a prisoner about to be hanged.

Ulster Dems Meet To Select Slate For Fall Election

The Ulster County Democratic unofficial convention was being held today at the court house to designate party candidates for offices to be filled at the November election. The names of candidates, where there may be a contest, will be submitted to the enrolled voters on Primary Day, June 2.

Thus far the only Democratic candidate names which have been made public are those of Joseph Y. Resnick of Ellenville who was recently designated as the Democratic choice for Congress and Supervisor George Marjestic of Gardiner for the position of state senator.

Shortly before convention time the Democratic party leaders were holding a caucus. Ulster County Chairman Judge Aaron E. Klein said it would be an open convention and no indication as to who might be the party's choice for offices was disclosed.

In addition to naming delegates to the national convention, delegates to the judicial convention will also be named. State committeemen will be designated. Locally offices to be filled will be that of assemblyman, district attorney, county treasurer and coroner.

The convention was still in progress at press time. County Chairman Klein presided and Charles Tiano of Woodstock was clerk of the convention.

There were no objections raised as to the qualifications of Martocci. The objection expressed by the committee was that he was not in a position to serve in a full time capacity. It is reported Martocci objected to being replaced on the grounds he had been named for a two year period.

Both Commissioner Epstein and Seymour Werbalowsky, Republican member of the board, agreed on the proposal and the appointment of Mrs. Reilly was made subject to a legal opinion by County Attorney Arthur A. Davis, Jr. as to the legality of the cancellation of the Martocci appointment, Epstein stated today.

Candidates Report Primary Expenses

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — The major candidates in New Hampshire's presidential primary spent about $275,000 on their campaigns.

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller apparently was the top spender, although his report wasn't filed. Campaign director Bert Teague estimated Rockefeller's campaign cost $97,000. He came in third with 19,504 votes. Rockefeller is expected to file a report later.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., in second place with 20,692 votes, spent $93,432, according to his report filed with Secretary of State Robert L. Stark.

The big vote getter in the write-in was Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge with 33,007. His supporters reported they spent $24,889.

Former Gov. Wesley Powell reported the write-in drive led by former Vice President Richard M. Nixon cost $15,285. The voters gave Nixon 15,287 write-ins for president and 8,131 for vice president.

Most costly per vote was the campaign of Harold E. Stassen, who reported he spent $44,834 to get his 1,373 votes.

Nevada Officers Hunt Suspect in New York Deaths

BATTLE MOUNTAIN, Nev. (AP)—Law officers from three counties were using small planes and police dogs today in a manhunt for the suspected killer of a New York couple, slain last month near Phoenix.

Mineral County Sheriff's Deputy Victor Trujillo said the wanted man was Jim Vandam of Fresno, Calif. He was believed armed.

The search began Friday night after a man and a 16-year-old girl fled a camper truck at a sheriff's roadblock. The truck and camper belonged to John and Mildred Bertella of Sherrill, N.Y.

The bodies of Bertella, 62, and his 55-year-old wife were found Feb. 24 off Highway 88, just north of Apache Junction, Ariz. Both had been beaten, stabbed and their throats cut.

Sheriff's deputies captured the girl, identified as Theresa Robichaud, also of Fresno, near where the truck camper was halted.

"He's considered mad and dangerous," Trujillo said. "We don't know how long he can last in there. It's freezing... if he shoots, we're sure going to shoot back."

In Phoenix, Sheriff Cal Boies disclosed that Bertella had also been shot, but he did not reveal the caliber of the weapon.

The retired couple had left New York on Dec. 1 on their third winter trip to the Phoenix area.

2 Are Fined $20 In Rumble Case, Ashdown Is Freed

Two of six young southern Ulster County men arrested early March 7 after an alleged "rumble" on Mill Street, paid fines of $20 each today in City Court when they admitted disorderly conduct charges.

They were Ismael Castro, 19, of Box 108, Plattekill, and Silverio A. Diaz Jr., 17, of Box 173, Plattekill.

The charges were reduced from possession of a dangerous weapon. Judge Joseph D. Sacco also suspended imposition of 30-day jail sentences on the pair.

Still Face Charges

Still facing a charge of possession of a dangerous weapon is Ronald Martinez, 22, of Box 279, Walkkill RD 3. Also facing disorderly conduct charges are Kenneth Narvaez, 18, of Box 53, Plattekill, RD 3, and Lawrence Martinez, 19, brother of Ronald Martinez, of the Box 279 address. Their cases were adjourned to March 28.

Ronald Martinez, Castro and Diaz were arrested on the weapons charges after a "rumble" in the area of 18 Mill Street shortly after midnight two weeks ago. Police said they confiscated a switchblade knife, a pocketknife and a lug wrench after the scuffle.

Patrolmen Anthony Turck and Thomas Coffey and Detective Gurnsey Burger Jr., investigated. The defendants were represented by Attorney Sherwood Davis.

In another case, Frank W. Parslow, 25, of Box 215, Luras Avenue Extension, paid a $15 fine when he admitted a speeding charge preferred by Patrolman Thomas Coffey. Charges of being an unlicensed operator and driving an unregistered vehicle were dismissed when Parslow produced his license and registration.

Jury Acquits Ashdown

Thomas Ashdown, 20, of 539 Albany Avenue Extension, one of six young men arrested after a so-called "shooting spree" in the city and vicinity last Nov. 17, was acquitted by a City Court jury Friday of a charge of shooting an animal.

The jury deliberated 32 minutes before handing up their verdict to City Judge Joseph D. Sacco.

Police had charged that the young men, riding in two cars, were apprehended on Flatbush Avenue just outside the city, after complaints that they had discharged shotguns from the vehicles in the city and elsewhere. Police said the six had fired at various objects, including a traffic light, and that a "dog owned by Burton Shoemaker, of 20 Dunneman Avenue, had been shot and killed as a result."

Attorney Charles H. Gaffney appeared for Ashdown and Assistant District Attorney Robert A. MacKinnon for the prosecution.

Record Budget Awaits Approval

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller's record $2.92-billion budget for the fiscal year beginning April 1 was before the Legislature for passage today.

Republican leaders, guiding the session toward adjournment Wednesday, set aside the Saturday session exclusively for debate on the long series of appropriations bills that comprise the annual budget.

The GOP leaders' schedule included a generous allocation of time for amendments, all of them destined for defeat, by members of the Democratic minority.

The Democrats' particular goal was a major increase in state aid to education.

But the GOP majorities in the Legislature have established a party position on the budget and this eliminated prospects of those sponsored by Democrats.

The Legislature will turn next week to the rest of the unfinished business of the session, including several major bills.

South Viet Makes Charge, Apology About Cambodia

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—South Viet Nam protested today that Cambodian fighters shot down an American-piloted Vietnamese plane. However, it apologized for the air attack on a Cambodian border village during which the unarmed spotter plane went down.

The stiff protest issued by the Saigon government was expected to strain still further relations between the two Indochinese neighbors, long in dispute over their ill-defined border.

Charging that 16 Cambodians were killed in the air attack, Cambodia has postponed peace talks scheduled with South Viet Nam this weekend. The United States has warmly supported these negotiations in hopes of keeping neutralist Cambodia out of the beckoning arms of Red China.

The Vietnamese charged that two Cambodian fighters crossed into Vietnamese territory Thursday, shot down the lightweight L19 spotter plane, then flew back across the frontier.

MEETING HER FIANCE'S FAMILY

Q: I have just recently become engaged to a man whose family lives in another city. His mother has written me a very nice letter and has asked me to come and visit them. I plan to go this coming weekend with my fiancé. His parents are complete strangers to me and the thought of meeting them is giving me a bad case of the jitters. Will you please tell me how to be a composed and well-behaved house guest? It is so important.

A: The very first advice is to forget the word "impression." To think too intently about what they think of you is the one way to make you self-conscious and tense and ill at ease. If you keep in mind that they are probably just nervous about your impression of them as you are about theirs of you, that may help. As for advice as to how to be a perfect house guest, whether you are staying with in-laws-to-be or anyone else, perfection will be measured by your ability to adapt yourself easily and quickly to the ways of the family. And if you really want to make the right impression on your fiancé's family, then try to be responsive and good tempered and appreciative of whatever effort they make to please you.

Inviting a Friend of a Friend
Q: A bachelor friend of ours has been seeing a young woman for the past several months. He seems quite interested in her. I would like to invite them both to dinner some evening so that we can meet her. Would it be proper to call him and ask him to bring her to dinner or must I invite her personally?

A: You should invite her personally. Write a note or telephone her saying that John Smith has spoken of her so often that you would love to meet her, and would she come with him to dinner next Thursday.

Inviting Stranger to Wedding
Q: How is the best way to go about inviting a boy, who is a stranger, to my wedding? The girl he goes with is a very good friend of mine.

A: Send him an invitation addressed in her care.

Dear Abby . . . For the Skeptics!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR READERS: I am continually receiving letters from readers who ask, "How can you give advice to parents on child rearing when you are an old maid yourself?" Or, "The lady next door told me that the picture you use with your column was taken before World War I." Others have asked, "Are you married? Have you any children?"

I have, on numerous occasions, answered these questions in my column, but for those who apparently still do not know, I offer a few vital statistics:

Abigail Van Buren is a pen name of my own choosing. I was born on the fourth of July in 1918. In 1939 I married the same fine man to whom I am still married. We have two offspring—a daughter 21, and a son 19. The picture over my column was taken about a year ago. I stand five feet nothing, and weigh 100 pounds. I was raised on Iowa corn (no remarks, please) and now reside in southern California. Any more questions?

DEAR ABBY: My husband insists on making a liar out of me every time I open my mouth. I can be talking to friends, relatives, our children or to strangers. He is a good man in many other ways, but his habit of contradicting me is getting me down. I don't even feel like talking in front of him any more. When I started to tell my doctor how I felt, my husband interrupted me, saying, "She doesn't really feel weak and dizzy. She feels tired and nervous." I am never right. Is there a cure for a man like that?

NEVER RIGHT

DEAR NEVER: Your husband may not be aware that he is constantly contradicting you. Tell him! And if he's as good a man in the many other ways as you say he is, he'll make an effort to be a better man in this way, too. If he's just looking for a fight, use reverse English and give him the old, "You're right, Dear." He'll catch on.

DEAR ABBY: You once gave me your recipe for Southern pecan pie. I baked one for my family, and they just raved about how delicious it was. Then I baked two more and served it to my "Club." All the women wanted the recipe. I didn't think it would be right, Abby, if I gave it out without asking your permission. If you say no, I'll guard it with my life.

Florence O. in Hannibal, Mo.
DEAR FLORENCE: I hope your life is worth more than one cup of white corn syrup, one cup of dark brown sugar, one-third cup of melted butter, one heaping cup of shelled pecans, three whole eggs, a dash of vanilla and a pinch of salt. I can't understand a person who refuses to give out a recipe (save a professional chef). Share!

Get it off your chest. For a personal unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send 30 cents to Abby, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

But Is It Final?

Chester Taking His Third Walk From Dodge City

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—For the third and last (?) time, Dennis Weaver has limped down the dusty road that leads out of Dodge City.

Thinks It Last One
Dennis, the gimpy deputy Chester of the long-running "Gunsmoke," says cautiously: "Nothing is irrevocable, but I do believe that this time my departure is final."

Two years ago Dennis announced his leave-taking because CBS was hot for him to head up an hour-long variety show. It didn't materialize, and he returned to "Gunsmoke" for 15 of the Saturday night hours.

Then CBS put him in an hour show about a high school principal. The pilot aroused a lot of interest but no sales. Again, back to "Gunsmoke" for another 12.

This time NBC has signed, piloted and slotted him for Saturday night at 8:30 in a half-hour tentatively called "Kentucky's Kid."

"I play a former horse racing man and veterinarian who is a free soul," Dennis said. "My wife, who has conveniently died a couple of weeks before the series starts, had adopted a little Chinese boy from the mainland."

To Miss Old Gang
"The relationship is like Wally Berry and Jackie Cooper in 'The Champ.' He tries to get me to settle down while I want to go off for the wild life. There is plenty of room for drama, pathos and comedy."

Any regrets about leaving "Gunsmoke" after nine seasons?

"None whatsoever," he said. "Oh, I miss the old gang. I especially miss Jim Arness's humor, and Milburn Stone and Amanda Blake were wonderful to work with."

"But I don't miss the show in terms of going back. It got to be pretty routine and unstimulating."

Rusk Is Accused Of Using Smears If Policies Opposed
By ERNEST B. VACCARO
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk has been accused by two Democratic senators of using "McCarthy smear tactics" against opponents of his policies.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., told the Senate Friday—and Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, agreed with him in a second speech—that the country "can well afford to get along" without Rusk.

They took issue with Rusk for saying in a Salt Lake City speech Thursday night that if the country's "quitters" had their way the United States would be playing into the hands of its adversaries.

Both Morse and Gruening are critics of the $3.4 billion foreign aid program President Johnson sent to Congress Thursday and both advocate the withdrawal of U.S. forces from South Viet Nam.

Morse called Rusk's speech to the Western Political Science Association "one of the most unfortunate by a responsible government official in many years."

Gruening said he hoped that Rusk, on reflection, would realize he "went off half-cocked" and suggested the secretary should apologize for "slurs" on Morse and him for their differences on foreign policy.

There was no comment from the State Department.

30,000 Students Swarm at Daytona Beach for Spree
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Thirty thousand vacationing college students, vanguard of an expected 70,000, poured out over the beach here today for an Easter spree away from home.

So far about 150 have been arrested for drinking under age 21. One was held on $1,500 bond for resisting arrest, and a "main" owner was cited with "main" for housing lousy vacationers.

Said one policeman: "We're keeping our fingers crossed, patrolling the beach like hounds, and praying the good guys will lead the beer drinking."

Starting today, planned entertainment along the 20 miles of beach will be almost continuous through April 4. One 75-cent admission ticket is good for the entire vacation. With it students can hear folk singers and a jazz sextet.

Planning Home, Consider Indoor-Outdoor Living

Provision for a combination of indoor-outdoor living is something that should be considered at the time of the original planning of a new home. This way both phases are well integrated into the family scheme of living at the outset.

This type of planning means much more than just building an outdoor fireplace. It means careful selection of sites for patio and play areas will make certain they are placed properly. Careful attention to such detail is demonstrated in today's feature called the "Janice."

This one level dwelling has all the attributes of the best in semi-contemporary planning. The floor plan is completely functional to ease the task of housekeeping and the outdoor facilities are arranged to blend perfectly. The side patio with sliding glass doors, built-in outdoor fireplace and sun-deck over the breezeway and garage will have their own place in the scheme of family activities.

The roof is a low 3-12 pitch and overhangs 36 inches with dropaway design (extended ridge) for the two gable ends. The theme of open planning is particularly emphasized in the design of the living room. Excellent for the kitchen bar with cubboards over, separation was purposely avoided in order to create one vast expanse.

Three fine bedrooms are provided toward the front. All have large sliding door closets and the main bathroom is well placed to serve the rooms more efficiently because the master bedroom has its own private lavatory.

The basic outside dimensions of the "Janice" are 26 by 45 feet, providing 1170 square feet for the living area. Breezeway and garage adds another 500 square feet.

Blueprints for the "Janice" can be obtained by using the accompanying coupon. They include specifications forms that will be helpful in discussing costs with your contractor.

Oak Floors Popular

Among the chief factors in the overwhelming popularity of oak floors for homes, builders say, are the striking natural beauty of the wood, its renewability and the added resale value which the floors give a home. Even after years of severe wear, fine oak floors can be sanded and refinished to look like new. The cost of such reconditioning is moderate.

Winners Guard Against Breaks

By OSWALD JACOBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
Somewhere there may be a land where finesses always work and suits never break badly, but until we find that never-never land, it behooves us to guard against unsuccessful finesses and bad breaks.

West makes his normal club opening and continues the suit. If South is at all careless, he will ruff that second club and go after trumps. The 4-1 break will make it impossible for him to pull all West's trumps without using all his own. And when he loses the diamond finesse East will lead a third club and another contract will go down the drain.

Declarer will have been unlucky, but his bad luck will be due to his own carelessness. If South just stops to think at trick two he can guard against both the four-one trump break and the losing finesse. Furthermore, he can take those precautions at no risk at all.

Where Isn't A Finish?

Did you ever think about the multitude of articles in your everyday life that are made brighter and more durable by the quality products from the coatings industry? Try this simple little game sometime. From the time you get up in the morning until you go to bed that night, count the number of objects that have a finish on them. You'll find that you'll have a pretty big number at the end of the day. A small sampling might include the bed you slept on, the alarm clock that awakened you, the table where you had your breakfast, the fixtures in the bathroom, the kitchen appliances, and the floor you walked on as you went from one room to another. See, we have only named a few and your day hasn't really begun yet.

Now's the time to start patio planning if you want to take advantage of those pleasant summer evenings that begin in the spring.

Besides adding outdoor living space, a patio can make the inside of your home seem much larger. Windows and glass doors help to accomplish this. A flight of steps is avoided, and an economy gained, whenever the inside and outside are near the same level.

To make your patio completely functional, it should be surfaced with a durable and easy-to-clean material such as quarry tile. This rugged material now comes in a variety of lustrous colors and different shapes. Its first cost is its final cost, for tile never needs to be painted or polished.

Once the patio is completed, you should give the project a finished appearance by landscaping. Well thought out grading, planting and screening, rather than how much material is used or money spent, determines the success of landscaping.

A tiled patio, properly landscaped, will more than pay for itself if you decide to sell your home. In the meantime it will provide you with perennial pleasure.

Money Pours In Beatles Release New Recording

LONDON (AP)—Pity the poor Beatles. They're making money so fast they don't have time to count it.

And today another golden flood begins. It's the release date for a new record of theirs.

A million copies have been sold in advance in Britain alone—a mark achieved only once before by the Beatles.

"We think the Beatles are the biggest thing in show business—anywhere, anytime," said an official of the recording company.

Returning to U.S.
The long-manned quartet is spinning around as busily as its records.

Until May, that is. Then they plan to take a month off—to rest for a summer schedule that includes a coast-to-coast tour of the United States, starting in August.

The boys are making their first movie. The film, still untitled, is being shot at studios near London and on location in the west of England.

The boys expect to finish the film late next month, when they have two concerts scheduled in Scotland.

Then for that rest—for which they'll probably split up and seek seclusion from the hordes of screaming teen-agers who follow them continually.

On May 31 the Beatles return to action with a concert in London. In June they will tour West Australia and New Zealand. July's schedule is being booked.

Then it's "Beatlemania" time again for the United States.

But it isn't only the teen-agers who cuddle close as they can to the Beatles.

Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home claimed them as "my secret weapon" for helping boost Britain's foreign exchange.

The Beatles are George Harrison, 21 last month; Paul McCartney, 22 in June; and Ringo Starr and John Lennon, each 23.

Lennon is married. McCartney and British actress Jane Asher are going steady, but both have denied rumors they plan to wed. Ringo and Harrison remain unattached.

Color Do's and Don'ts

Knowing a few basic facts about color and how to use it can give you a head start in planning a color scheme for one room or a whole house, says the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association. DO mix both warm and cool colors in each room. DON'T use colors in equal proportions in any one room. DO remember that colors are relative and must be seen together. DON'T use too many colors in a room, and don't use all neutral hues. DO study color swatches in both daylight and nightlight as colors often change under artificial light. DO have continuing color flow through the house, and use harmonious colors in rooms that adjoin. DON'T choose neutral negative colors just because they are safe. DO remember that color in a large area looks "more so." Your color sample should always be lighter than the final results that you intend.

Now's the time to start patio planning if you want to take advantage of those pleasant summer evenings that begin in the spring.

Besides adding outdoor living space, a patio can make the inside of your home seem much larger. Windows and glass doors help to accomplish this. A flight of steps is avoided, and an economy gained, whenever the inside and outside are near the same level.

To make your patio completely functional, it should be surfaced with a durable and easy-to-clean material such as quarry tile. This rugged material now comes in a variety of lustrous colors and different shapes. Its first cost is its final cost, for tile never needs to be painted or polished.

Once the patio is completed, you should give the project a finished appearance by landscaping. Well thought out grading, planting and screening, rather than how much material is used or money spent, determines the success of landscaping.

A tiled patio, properly landscaped, will more than pay for itself if you decide to sell your home. In the meantime it will provide you with perennial pleasure.

Famed Attorney Dies in Poverty

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—William Scott Stewart, famed Chicago lawyer known as the "hanging prosecutor" before he resigned and became a defense attorney who numbered mobsters among his clients, has died in poverty and obscurity.

Death came on March 8 in a modest rented white house in North Miami Beach and was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage. He was 74.

There was no funeral — no flowers — no mourners. His body was taken to the University of Miami Medical School in accordance with Stewart's wish.

Stewart was born in Chicago and came to Miami in

UCLA, Duke Move to Finals Of NCAA Cage Tournament

To Meet Tonight For Championship

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
KANSAS CITY (AP)—A combination of dash and drive, Keith Erickson and four per cheerleaders put UCLA into Saturday night's NCAA basketball championship game against Duke.

The unbeaten Bruins had their hands full with Kansas State and had just rallied to a 75-75 tie Friday night when the four short-skirted misses romped into Municipal Auditorium.

They gave out a yelp, the crowd gave out a yell, Erickson dropped in a couple of free throws and UCLA was ahead to stay.

"Their arrival certainly seemed to turn the trick," UCLA Coach John Wooden said, half joking.

29th for Bruins
The Bruins finished up with a 90-84 triumph and their 29th straight victory. Duke clipped Michigan 91-80 in Friday night's semifinal, setting up the Saturday final between the top-ranked Big Six champion and the nation's No. 3 team from the Atlantic Coast Conference. Neither has ever won the title before.

"Duke really impressed me," Wooden said. "Particularly the way they work one big man on the high post and the other on the short post. They're a fine basketball team, but we're not unaccustomed to playing tall teams."

Big Jay Buckley, Duke's 6-foot-10 center, was the difference. He pulled down 14 rebounds against Michigan's burly front line and contributed 25 points.

The Blue Devils, now 26-4 for the season, outscored Michigan 81-1 late in the first half for a 39-32 lead, increased it to 48-39 at intermission and weren't seriously threatened again.

UCLA, however, had all it could handle. The Bruins were down 75-70 when they reeled off a string of 11 straight points, most on a blazing fast break keyed by Gail Goodrich and Walt Hazzard.

The burst gave them an 81-75 lead with about five minutes to go, and they started slowing it down, working the ball far out from the basket and forcing Kansas State to abandon its zone defense.

The Kansans began fouling and UCLA had control of the game the rest of the way.

Giants Gain 7th Straight Win, Yanks and Mets Are Defeated

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Somebody finally held the San Francisco Giants under 15 runs. They only got 11.

But the Giants, who are wearing out home plate this spring, won their seventh straight exhibition game, 11-3 over the Los Angeles Angels Friday. They made it 41 runs on 57 hits in their last three games and ran their spring record to 11-1.

In the process, the Giants got 10 runs in one inning and wound up with Willie McCovey pinch hitting for Willie Mays.

Mays drove the first two runs across in the big fifth inning. When his turn came around again, McCovey went in to bat for him and collected his 11th consecutive hit of the spring.

The victory gave the Giants the best exhibition game record, after the Los Angeles Dodgers lost their first game of the spring 4-3 to the Baltimore Orioles in a 13-inning night contest. The Dodgers are 3-1.

The St. Louis Cardinals ran their record to 6-1 with a 4-1 victory over the New York Mets. The Cards have beaten New York three out of three so far.

Hank Aaron hit two homers and Frank Bolling and Tommie Aaron one each as the Milwaukee Braves blasted the New York Yankees 11-1. Ralph Terry and Whitey Ford served up the homers.

Richie Allen, the 22-year-old rookie third baseman of the Philadelphia Phils, hit a three-run homer—his fourth in six games—in a 5-0 victory over the Houston Colts.

Mudcat Grant drove in three runs and pitched 6-1/3 innings for Cleveland in a 5-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Kansas City won its first game of the spring, 7-4 over Washington. Manny Jimenez and Gino Cimoli were the batting stars for the Athletics.

Cincinnati whipped Detroit 8-6 in the other game played. The Pittsburgh-Chicago White Sox contest was postponed because of wet grounds.

Probe Death of Girl

ELMIRA, N.Y. (AP)—Police pressed their search today for clues in the death of a 12-year-old girl who, they said, was choked and strangled and then left beneath a pile of dirt, sticks and stones in a wooded area near here.

The frozen, fully-clothed body of Theresa Mary Simpson was discovered Thursday by a father and his two sons who were hiking. She had been missing, police said, since Sunday after she left the home of her aunt, Mrs. Alice Baumann, to walk to her home one mile away.

Dist. Atty. Pace H. McCabe of Chemung County said the death was a homicide, but that he had no suspects.

Dr. M. Eugene Pittman, county coroner, said the girl had not been sexually assaulted.

Police Seek Vandals

Police continued their investigation today into malicious mischief and petty theft reports in the uptown area. Rex DePew, of 156 Downs Street, reported at 7:55 p. m. that someone cut down and removed a clothesline and damaged a fence in his yard. Earlier, about 7:10 p. m., glass was reportedly broken in a phone booth at Dietz Stadium.

Storms Move Into Ohio Valley and Adjacent Sectors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Precipitation dampened portions of the Midwest, South and Far West today, while fair weather prevailed in other areas.

A storm center which blanketed the central plains and middle Mississippi Valley with snow on the first day of spring Friday moved into Ohio today. Showers and thundershowers occurred from the lower Ohio Valley south into Alabama and east through the Carolinas and Virginias.

Showers also occurred in the Pacific Northwest and along the northern California coast. The weather was fair and dry in New England and from the plains states through the Rockies and in the Southwest.

Temperatures ranged from near zero in North Dakota to the upper 70s in the Florida Keys. The blizzard which blighted the beginning of spring in the central section left heavy snow accumulations. Ten inches were reported in Winner, S.D.; 9 inches in Hull, Iowa; and 5 inches in Sioux City, Iowa, and Superior, Wis.

Hazardous driving warnings were in effect in many states, some schools were closed and communications were disrupted. But the snow was welcomed by farmers whose fields needed moisture.

Rainfall in the Ohio Valley caused new flood worries to communities along low areas in Illinois and Kentucky. Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois ordered the National Guard to prepare to help evacuate residents of three communities near Shawneetown.

DeGaulle Says Allies Must Take To French Policies

BASSE TERRE, Guadeloupe (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle says France's allies must reconcile themselves to French foreign policy initiatives.

In two speeches Friday, De Gaulle made clear his intention to hold to positions he has taken on world affairs, despite frequent annoyance voiced particularly by the United States.

The French president came here after a friendship visit to Mexico.

De Gaulle did not specifically mention the United States, but his words seemed to be directed aimed at Washington.

"We are a great nation and everyone recognizes it," De Gaulle said. "This does not mean that we put ourselves in opposition to those who do not threaten us, and in particular those who are our friends and allies."

"It is up to them to adapt themselves to this new and very satisfying situation for us—French independence. As soon as they adapt to it and admit that France too can take initiatives, take its own actions, have its own policies, there will no longer be a shadow between us and them."

De Gaulle spoke in Guadeloupe's two cities, Pointe-A-Pitre and Basse Terre. His remarks drew warm applause. Scattered signs painted on buildings and brief chanting during his Pointe-A-Pitre speech recalled, however, that some of Guadeloupe's 270,000 residents favor autonomy or home rule.

Don't Swat That Fly, Rule in Cuban Camps

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—If you shoot a fly in a Cuban concentration camp, you get swatted, a refugee said.

Alejandro Aguiro, 25, one of 54 exiles who arrived in five small boats Thursday from Cuba, said he served 10 days in such a camp.

"Flies were thick there because of lack of sanitary facilities, and they would get in our food and on our person," Aguiro said. "But we were supposed to let them bite us. Part of our punishment, I guess. If we shooed them, guards would hit us with sticks."

It was presented at Valley Forge on February 22. Key Club is a high school boys' service organization sponsored by Kiwanis International. It numbers 67,000 members in 2700 United States and Canadian high schools. Glenn, himself, was a top award winner.

Motorist Saves Woman

An unidentified motorist early today rescued a Town of Wappinger woman from her burning home. Authorities said Marie Mills was alone in her home on Route 9D when fire of undetermined origin broke out and rapidly spread through the frame residence. Firemen reported the house was completely gutted.

The woman was taken to Highland Hospital, Beacon and treated for shock.

Six Beacon families fled from their apartments early today when fire was discovered in an upper floor room. No injuries were reported. Firemen used smoke ejectors to clear the building.

Supervisor Calls Meeting About County Data Book

Clarence C. Raichle, chairman of the Ulster County Board of Supervisors Industrial Development Committee, has called a meeting of his committee for Monday, April 6, at 7:30 p. m. at the county house. At that time representatives of the Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, League of Women Voters and Ulster Planning Commission will discuss the issuance of a new County Data Book.

The last Data Book was published in 1962 and the demand was so great that the supply has been exhausted and requests for copies continue to come in from firms seeking information in regard to Ulster County as a place for possible location.

Raichle, 12th Ward Republican supervisor, said he would probably offer a resolution at the next meeting of the board seeking funds to defray the cost of the issuance of a new brochure.

The Data Book contains a wealth of information relative to Ulster County and its potentials, including such information as would be sought by industrial firms seeking to locate in the area.

Motorists Pay Fines

Two motorists paid fines of $5 each when they admitted separate traffic charges at their appearance Friday night before Police Justice G. Thomas Rea, Saugerties.

John Bordenhagen, 72, of Quaker Hill, was cited by Sgt. Gordon Keeley on a charge of failure to stop at a stop street, and Joseph Pileghaar, 41, of Blue Mountain, was charged by Patrolman William Johnson with parking in a restricted zone.

Another charge of parking in a restricted zone preferred by Sgt. Donald Sullivan against Rupert Harrison, 45, of Box 54, Catskill RD 1, was dismissed. Hearing on a charge against Michael J. Nichols, of Jane Street, Saugerties, of leaving the scene of an accident, was adjourned to next Friday.

Founded League

Founder of the Glasco-East Kingston Little League, he has served as president for many years. He is a former president of the City Baseball League and also was president of Glasco Italian-American Club and still serves as president of Glasco Athletic Club.

He also serves on Saugerties Youth Council and now becomes one of three members who have won distinguished citizens awards. Vernon Joe Benjamin Peter Pokalyko of the Youth Council received recognition as Saugerties Jaycees outstanding citizen.

In addition to his baseball and boxing promotions, he also sponsored dances which brought such bands as Cab Calloway, Ozzie Nelson, Clyde McCoy, Gene Krupa and Tommy Dorsey to this area.

The local VFW announced that Thomas Hughes will be ticket chairman for the dinner and Neil Courtney, senior vice commander is general chairman.

Teacher Is Hurt

John Martin, 39, of New Paltz, was cited for being an unlicensed operator after his car collided with a tank truck about 6 p. m. Friday on Rt. 308 near Sepasco in Dutchess County. State Police at Rhinebeck said the truck was driven by Rexford Maine, 24, of Red Hook. No injuries were reported.

Kentucky Likely To Make Move if Rights Bill Passes

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—The possibility grew today that the Kentucky Legislature would be called into special session to consider a civil rights bill if Congress passes one.

Gov. Edward T. Breathitt said that he would summon state lawmakers into conference to discuss Kentucky's needs after a measure is approved at Washington.

"I will try again to persuade them of the necessity of such a law and I will at this time evaluate the possible success of a special session," he said in a statement Friday night.

"If in my judgment a special session would likely result in the passage of a bill that would effectively outlaw discrimination in places serving the public, I will call the assembly into session immediately," he added.

The pledge was regarded by civil rights forces as at least a partial victory for a state civil rights measure.

More than 30 integrationists ended their 104-hour hunger strike in the House gallery Friday night after learning the governor planned to make the statement.

The integrationist group, led by Frank Stanley Jr., Louisville Negro newspaper executive, had vowed to starve unless a civil rights bill was passed or a special session called immediately after the regular one ended.

The General Assembly had rejected a public accommodations measure. It ended its 60-day session before midnight.

Dems Lead COP In Enrollment

Enrolled Democrats outnumber Republicans in New York State by 426,463, according to figures announced today by Secretary of State John P. Lomenzo.

Voters who enrolled at the time of the general election last fall are eligible to cast ballots in the primary election, June 2.

The enrollments, as filed in the Department of State here show 3,269,259 in the Democratic column to 2,842,796 in the Republican. There are 80,201 enrolled in the Liberal Party.

Enrollment by counties for use in 1964 primaries (listed in following order—Republican, Democrat, Liberal, Conservative) follows: Ulster—25,069; 10,020; 294; 237; Dutchess—30,414; 16,826; 385; 471; Delaware—12,188; 4,289; 35; 37; Greene—9,869; 4,165; 58; 73; Orange—41,417; 19,188; 301; 380.

Sugar Crop...

The high prices cut world sugar consumption.

In addition, the world price recently has been around 7 cents a pound, against a peak of 16 cents and an average of about 8.5 cents in 1963.

No Improvement Seen

Curiously, some pessimistic reports on Cuban production have been coming out of Cuba, and some traders wonder if the Castro regime might not be spreading these reports for their effect on prices. The speculation here is that the 1964 Cuban crop will be about the same as 1963—3.8 million metric tons.

How much Castro's purchases of badly needed machinery and equipment will be able to help Cuba's troubled economy remain to be seen.

Speedy Car Recovery

It took Detective William Slover some 13 minutes to locate a car reported stolen Friday night in the uptown area.

Stephen Nekos, of Box 275, Hurley, told police he parked his 1963 station wagon on John Street at 10:25 p. m. When he returned at 11:05 p. m. the vehicle was gone. The report was filed at police headquarters at 11:45 and by 11:58 Det. Slover had recovered the vehicle on Pearl Street near St. Joseph's School.

United Nations headquarters in New York City cover an area of approximately 18 acres.

Business Week in Review

By JACK LEFFLER
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The economy got some supercharged shots in the arm during the week.

The diagnosis was that business is fine and likely to get better.

General Motors Corp. injected new strength into the business bloodstream with the announcement that it will invest $2 billion in new plant and equipment in 1964 and 1965. In addition, it will spend $600 million on tooling for new models in each year.

Largest in Two Years

The February increase in nonfarm jobs was the largest rise in nearly two years.

The steel industry reported production and shipments at a booming rate.

The Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York had these observations: "The economy, which during much of its convalescence from a mild 1960 chill fretted and fussed like the most nervous hypochondriac, now is acting like a patient finally convinced that he is solidly on the mend. Confidence in the business outlook is stronger than at any time in the past four years.

"The medicine that has made the difference appears to be a compound of several ingredients—among them tax reduction; good news from the retail counters, factory order desks and corporate board rooms; and the elixir of, persistently rising stock prices."

GM estimated its new facilities will provide 50,000 new jobs in the next two years.

The No. 1 automaker is aiming at an industry sales mark of 10 million passenger cars by 1970.

Chrysler Expects Top

Lynn Townsend, president of Chrysler Corp., has predicted that sales this year will total a record 8 million, compared with 7.7 million in 1963.

The industry turned out its two-millionth car of the calendar year during the week. Passenger car production for the week totaled an estimated 165,500 units, compared with 164,448 the previous week and 155,688 a year ago.

The increase in jobs last month made a heartening dent in the persistent unemployment problem.

The nonfarm payroll rose 80,000 from January to 56.9 million, compared with the usual seasonal drop of 200,000. The

Dr. Sullivan Says

Successful Bond Issue Vote Is Answer to OCS Problems

A successful vote by Onteora Central Schools District voters on the $1,291,000 high school construction bond issue on April 8, will provide classrooms by Sept., 1966 for 1,300 students.

This program will be adequate until 1968-69, Superintendent of Schools George R. Sullivan said in a speech at the Woodstock school this week.

It will also provide central facilities for 1,500 students, adequate until 1971-72. Central facilities, cafeteria and office space.

Dr. Sullivan said that Onteora this year is operating with 75 pupils over capacity. Next year (1964-65) there will be 135 high school pupils over capacity.

"We have few alternates to provide an education for these children," Dr. Sullivan said. He listed some of these as: (1) increased average class size to 35, 40 or more; (2) begin half-day sessions for one or more grades; (3) vacate elementary classrooms temporarily for junior high students.

Other Alternatives

Faced with these alternatives the Board of Education has selected the third choice as the best solution for 1964-65, he said. Next year 75 seventh grade pupils from the Woodstock-West Hurley area will attend classes in the Woodstock school. There they will receive the same educational program as provided in the central building. There will be 960 students attending the central building.

For the following year (1965-66), he added, the Board of Education will face a greater problem. An additional 70 high school students will be enrolled. At that time the same alternatives will be available to the Board of Education. However, elementary enrollment will have grown by about 70 children and there will be less elementary space available.

Dr. Sullivan noted that the central building has been rated by the State Education Department for a capacity of 800 pupils in grades 7-12 and the school can operate effectively with no more than 900 students. There are 975 pupils in the building this year and the number is increasing steadily at the rate of 70 high school pupils per year. By 1968, Onteora will have 1300 pupils and by 1971 will saturate the Boiceville site with about 1,500 high school pupils.

Great Efficiency

All classrooms in the building are used each of the eight periods in the day, except seven rooms each of which is free one period per day. This efficiency in scheduling far exceeds the $5.7 efficiency which is common in New York State high schools, Dr. Sullivan said.

In urging support of the bond issue, Dr. Sullivan told the audience:

"Our academic record is good and shows continuous improvement. Inadequate facilities

Transer Decision Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force said Friday a decision is expected next month on a suggestion by New York members of Congress to transfer the Electronic Systems Division from Hanscom Air Force Base, Bedford, Mass., to Griffiss Air Force Base, Rome, N.Y.

The New York Congressional delegation had proposed the transfer to Griffiss as a means of keeping the base active in the face of a defense department decision to close the Rome Air Materiel Area. About 3,000 civilian jobs would be affected.

Meanwhile opposition to the transfer solidified.

Rep. F. Bradford Morse, R-Mass., said he would seek a meeting of Massachusetts members of Congress to oppose any shift to Griffiss. In Boston, the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce said any transfer to Griffiss would badly damage the Boston area's economy.

Smith called the show basically contemporary, especially in the sculptures, many of which use newer techniques such as welding and found objects, while the drawings use the traditional pen, pencil, charcoal and wash materials.

The Ball State show will be on exhibit through the month of March and includes the work of artists from all over the United States and parts of Canada. Dr. Alice Nichols, head of the college art department, says that the increase in numbers of patrons and in numbers of entries is very encouraging for an exhibit which limits the media to drawings and small sculptures.

Edinger Details Steps Needed for Sewage Project

Action on Woodstock's sewage problem will depend on monies which may or may not be provided in the upcoming state budget, according to Harry Edinger, Sanitation Engineer of the Ulster County Board of Health.

He told the Woodstock town board at its March meeting that in the event the money does not become available for a survey from the state that there would then be a choice of action which would involve either a local petitioning move or consideration of federal aid.

"The original estimate of $600,000 for a Woodstock sewage system has risen to $750,000 on land assessed at one million dollars," Edinger said, adding:

"Should the state provide money for sewerage needs survey, Woodstock would be third in line with other towns to get any," he added. "Twenty five thousand is the usual amount for small studies. The Town of Ulster received $34,000 for a comprehensive survey."

Edinger said that the towns of Saugerties and Marlborough had priority over Woodstock for state financed surveys. He said there was an open sewers problem in the Saugerties township. There are a total of 24 applications, including one from Woodstock, now on file with the New York State Health Department. This program can only continue if this year's legislature makes provision for it in the current budget.

No Funds at Present

"Currently, there is no state money for studies," Edinger said. "The only available money I know of are interest-free federal loans which are returned when the study is completed. The financing of Woodstock's sewage problems starts with the survey cost. The 30 per cent state aid and federal loan when available is on cost of the treatment plant and mains and does not include the trunk lines to private buildings."

Edinger listed the three alternatives for obtaining funds for a local sewage system are state aid, a local bond issue or a federal loan.

In April, 1962, the Town Board by resolution authorized Supervisor Abram F. Molyneux to take all necessary steps to get a state-financed sewage survey for the Town of Woodstock. According to information released by Edinger's office, Woodstock did not make any formal contact with the Board of Health on the survey until April, 1963. The required preliminary surveys to gather data for the application for a state grant were not conducted. As a result of the delay, the funds appropriated by the state for this program have been exhausted. During that period, the Town of Ulster applied for and received a $34,000 grant all within the nine months.

Ethel Magafan Awarded Prize At Ball State

MUNCIE, Ind. — Ethel Magafan, Woodstock artist, is the winner of a cash award and an honorable mention for drawings entered in the 10th annual Drawing and Small Sculpture Show in the Ball State Teachers College art gallery. Both are ink drawings: "Mountain Heights" won the cash award, and "Craggy Place" earned honorable mention.

This 10th anniversary show was judged by Gordon Mackintosh Smith, director of the Albright-Knox Gallery, Buffalo, who chose 242 pieces from over 1150 entries. Sixty-nine sculptures and 173 drawings are in the show and represent a variety of expression.

Smith called the show basically contemporary, especially in the sculptures, many of which use newer techniques such as welding and found objects, while the drawings use the traditional pen, pencil, charcoal and wash materials.

The Ball State show will be on exhibit through the month of March and includes the work of artists from all over the United States and parts of Canada.
